Work from HOME

The designer of Viva Kitterry in association with a new TV series, called 'work at home improvements" has stumbled upon an idea that will either excite YOU or incite YOU. Thinking of the show home improvement, our think tank was pondering on how to make the working at home people and their employers much more safe and confident with their new environment and at home endeavors.

For instance, if you are on the clock with your employer and get hurt working at home; how does the insurance figure into the equation? Technically you should receive worker's comp if the situation calls for it. While you are at your desk doing all those important tasks ranging from intra-communication to ultra-communication, and working on those resolves for your company that makes life possible for sooooo many people, we developed Worksafe!

Bearing upon the themes of work place safety, and a certain amount of corporate responsibility we have a new plan we are promoting to companies that you, might work for yourself now. So the article is a little heads up to the awareness of safety and accountability at home.

We have designed a program using every day technology to help your company know you are SAFELY at your desk, not doing dangerous home activities covered normally by personal or home owner insurance.

Using a simple card with an air tag installed , the employees will swipe the card in what we call " office mate" .... a recording will play a phrase like "Gd day mate" and your office is alerted you are signed in and safely at you desk.

. When you leave your desk you simply swipe the card and a 7 minute delay will allow you for small hygienic or personal pit stops in your home. If the time elapses, the company will be alerted because the air tag needs to be in the room to prove you are there. With GD DAY MATE your safety is upheld through your companies ability to verify you are at your desk, it also allows for tracking if supposed necessary errands have to be run for office supplies. For instance, if an employee signs out to go get copy paper but the air tag signals that they are at the bar or golf course, the company will be alerted to an off sides alert like in a soccer game, where you are found out of bounds or off side!

We are so pleased to provide corporate America with this new at home safety feature that we are allowing the first 100,000 companies to enter into the program for less than 6 dollars a day per employee! Our bionics department is slaving away day and night to provide a simple implant for the airtag so your company can follow your safety needs all day. Just like the Quaker oatmeal ad in the 1980s which would float around people all day in the Ad. Luckily, Viva Kittery innovators have come up with this new safety and insurance " demanded" plan!

Just a heads up article for people to extrapolate their own at home WORKSAFE life. The program is called Worksafe, a new way to work in the new way of working. Lettuce know what you think .... i mean let us know what you think about the Worksafe plan and how it will benefit your future. GD DAY MATE!
