

MAYBE - YOU

Now that Ai is being used in law enforcement, a new world of 11010110 is replacing the proverbial xxx and ooo world. Whereas the law used to be chock full of hugs and kisses its now being taken seriously.

Finally we can have a system of constant persecution and conviction said Ai alternative representative. Soon Ai will be writing the laws, appointing itself to judge-ships while also providing rigorous prosecution and defense strategies.

It's a hole in one for law enforcement, noting that people in the system are assigned to administrative leave and other incomprehensible levels of remand for any of their cases. Ai is taught that the "creators" are not subject to population techniques and that Ai simply serves the creators by administering justice for them as Ai perceives they desire.

To wit, Ai can track and record all activities online under active investigation laws, and ai can run probabilities of crimes and make arrests before they happen. This is a happy Friday for all of us not affected by the new program called... IMT ... it is short for IF MAYBE and THEN... Based on if , maybe and then.. Ai can put forth a full and exacting array of arrests whereas in the old days we actually had to wait for a crime to happen and then probably never find any justice anyway ... So welcome to IMT and the Ai investigation team.