

Discovered Truth

An archaeological dig in the now.. newly considered " tri-state area, ...namely, Maine , NH and Canada.. Yes you heard right and correctly... Canada may actually be a state!!! Located ... " in" the US! @ This a Ripley's believe it or not for sure but many Canadians are now considering this new information found in the archaeological dig and taking it seriously.

So as the " dig" was underway one of the students yelled out...I found something..

The leader Dr Frostbite ran to the area where a large hide was found all rolled up and tied with maple leaves. In a laboratory the hide was stretched out after being x-rayed and examined showing petroglyph writing.. and the seals of early settlers over writing in old English!! This is phenomenal find Frostbite said.. and its now considered to be new strategy for the intentions of the early settlers who founded the US itself.. on the hide writings were discovered that showed that there were 14 colonies..not thirteen and that Canada was the 14th colony.

The old hide showed that the thirteen colonies shown in a ring of stars were supposed to be seen as separate but also altogether which using logic shows that seeing all thirteen stars together in a circle included Canada..a rather large area .. to be considered the inside part of the flag thereby proving its the 14th colony.

Frostbite says.. " we are pretty sure we are right!!@ and in modern academia that's pretty much enough to make this new or actually old unregarded claim..as in fact the original vision of the new nation.

Frostbite pointed out.. why wouldn't the colonies want Canada?? Two other colleagues responded to this question.. we think the flag shows the colonies surrounding Canada .."theoretically" and definitely its obvious they would want Canada... and would not want Canada separated from their unity or vision of the future so our theory pretty much shows that Canada was in fact the 14th colony.. thereby making it today ...the largest state in the union!!!@

Its exciting and many Canadians are now coming forward with statements like..yeah that makes sense... and offering words of promise like..this will make us the biggest tri-state lottery in the universe..which in fact it does...

Frostbite says there is probably some legal jargon to discuss but we are already getting ready to inform Canada that they have finally come home and are now the largest state in the union.. "what a discovery" Frostbite exclaimed..
