

Time is Illegal

Big news from lawmakers on the horizon.

A new law has been proposed that will actually make Time itself.. "illegal" ...you heard right ..and there's more. Anyone caught with a watch, a clock or other illegal time devices will be subject to instant misdemeanors while having a large clock.. or grandfathers clock will probably be a felony.

Law makers are discussing the grandfather clause for large case clocks but as of now collectors of time pieces are getting the jitters.

Look at this Rolex ..a man was begging people to steal it at a New York subway station!

Other people are going to tanning booths to get quick wrist tans so they cant be brought in for questioning..

Already asking someone what time it is is causing panic attacks in public.

See. lawmakers suggest..there are so many benefits to not knowing what day or time it is that its incalculable. Now you can simply work until you drop and when you have rested you get up and start working again. No more busy body clock watchers one employer chuckled.

Lawmakers admit that people will generally know the difference between day and night but at least they won't know what day it is.

They will suspect its summer when its hot' and suspect its winter when its cold.. but there's no more " countdown to Christmas: and a mad rush to get that "something for someone..because they won't know when its Christmas either!

Other federal holidays will be difficult to determine. Which with this complicated', . Outdated and now almost illegal system of clocks and calendars which have led to the economic crisis of the day.

Interest will be paid on accounts as banks " see fit".. Bills will be due when the company thinks its the "right moment" and seeing as the only time will be "now" ...bills will be more promptly paid said the executive of major stuff industries.

Phone calls will be billed differently too. If its an emergency to 9qq it will be a simple 5 dollar charge. BUT if you are calling friends to " pass the time" the charges will be hefty and lead to the lessening of idle chatter "when" you could be working.

It's a brilliant law ' introduced by an offshoot of an organization called ESBI' OR everything should be illegal. Subsequently many workers will no longer be paid by the hour' but only when the boss is satisfied that your job is done. Lets hope you are not hired to scoop water from the ocean... lol.

Anyway we are looking for insight into things you think will change once " time is illegal".

Lets us know your thoughts and send them to our ex-time reporter now seasonal reporter Sam Getwhist PO Box 8, Alarmdra Nova Scotia... a place where they say ...time stands still!
