

Which Came First

A recent news bulletin issued from the " Borg" that resistance is futile..assimilation is imperative.. has been answered by a first grader from Pretoria ...USA.

The first grader responded to the message. Is this information or a directive?

The Borg replied.. it is both.

The first grader replied..that you say its both... which came first? The information or the directive?

The Borg responded.. we know you are not Aristotle because he was assimilated.

The first grader continued' ..where is he then?

The Borg responded... uuuhhh. Good question.

See,the first grader said ...assimilation is futile...

The Borg said... uuuhhh. Well.. if you say so.

The first grader followed up with this.. knowing now assimilation is futile can i interest you in the Brooklyn bridge for five dollars down and 30 cents a month while you DE-assimilate your population and traverse the bridge to freedom?

The Borg sent the kid five dollars and a contract. His teacher grabbed him by the arm and said resistance is futile!!!

Reluctantly the child gave in and the world was assimilated.. lol

He grew up and became the head of the department of education where he recited this story in front of the committee for future development and reorganization.

He ended his speech and story with this.. Is there anyone here who believes in Santa Claus?

A small hand raised in the audience.

The microphone was sent to the child sitting in the crowd. When he had it in his hand.. the tens of thousands gathered at the meeting were silent to hear his words.

He simply said..yes.. yes I do believe in Santa Clause.. thank you for asking the question..

And I'm not assimilated..I am hoping that He hasn't been either!
