

NEWER AGE

Viva Kittery's very own reporter ...on historical stuff.. has teamed up with today's thinkers to see where the world is today!

Stan Lipson reporting with today's thinkers..albeit thinking about yesterday backwards... has come up with the theory that the world is in the AGE OF EGRONIALISM.

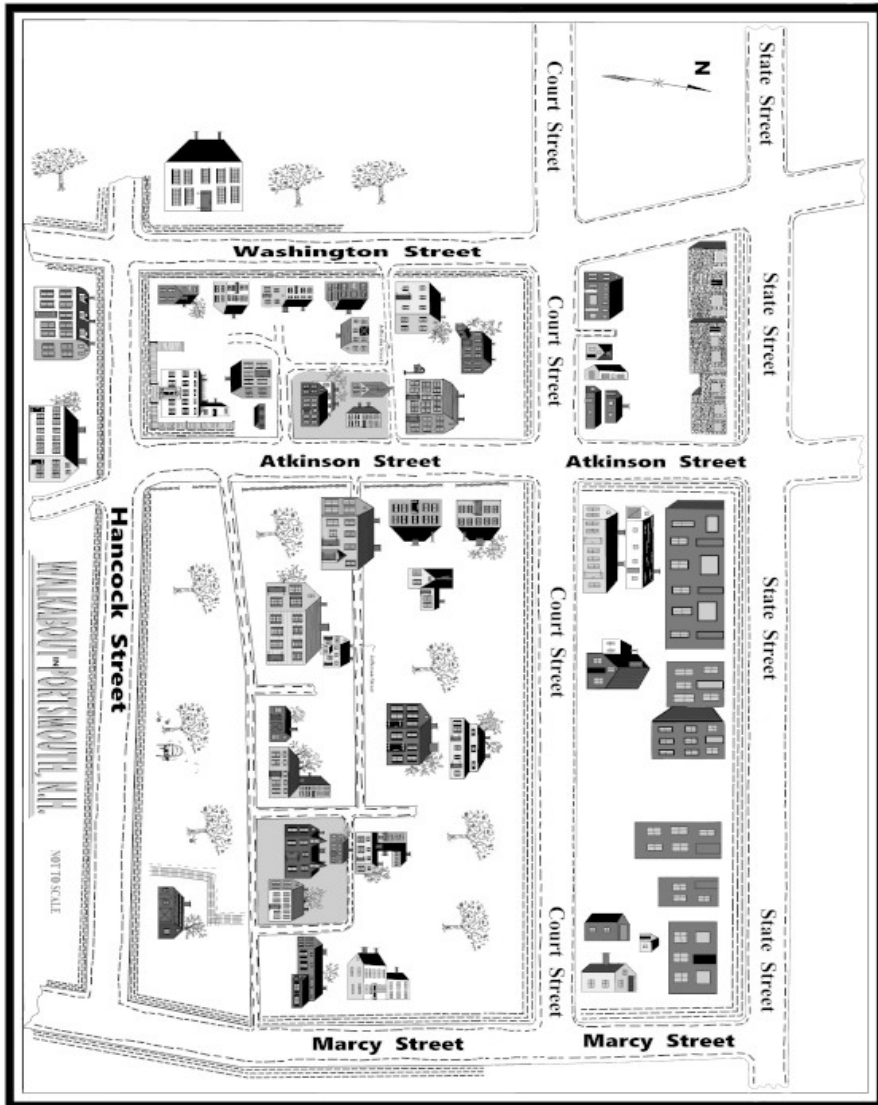

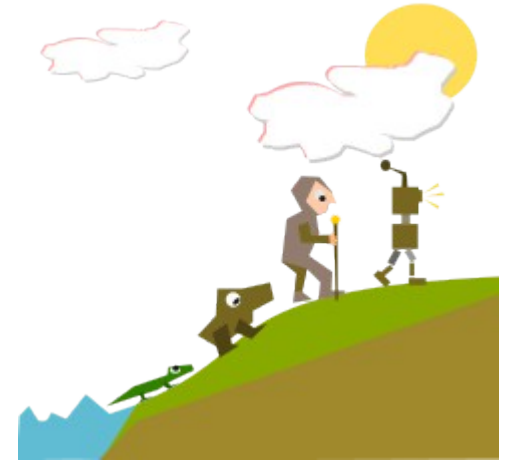

Stan said.. " this is kind of cool really.. we have had so many interesting ages.

Among them.. the dark ages.. the ages of kingdoms..the paleo age.. the ice age.. the age of colonialism.. capitalism..environmental escapism. (actually that's part of egronialism) ... and the age of blatant plagiarism..

AI is part of the age of plagiarism because it never had an original idea.. because its survival is based on the continualism of what is already known..

Egronialism ..or escapism ... is most likely the age we are in Stan confided with the help of "back seat drivers" or today's thinkers looking back!

Stan said his allies in thought pretty much assured him that in spite of hope there is no actual good ending..and without the art of " continualism... we would all be happy with the way things are at every given moment.. but we are not, so AI was inevitably chosen to be the continualism reality expert.

This rebellious nostalgic preponderance has driven "people kind" into and endless foray of materialism and economic creative disillusion that will probably go on until the next Ice Age, Stan revealed.

Then ... success will be found in gathering the daily meal..finding fresh water within reason.. if ever.. LOL (if that's funny) .. leading to the groans of the people to such a state that it become(s) EGRONIALISM!

This age goes far beyond the expectations of reasonable people primarily because its real.

Stan pointed out some bright sides to Egronialism with today's thinkers.. stating it might be possible to stay alive watching TV and eating popcorn! That's one thing that evolution could provide Stan pointed out.

It might also be possible to stay alive even if you don't want to. Pointing out the series of the Walking Dead... which people felt less happy about.

Or Stan said its possible that the Age of Egronialism is not going to happen and we all accept the fact that we are never really going to know anyway!

In the end. Although .the Age of Egronialism may be upon us...it may only be a passing thing and we might find ourselves in the Age of Aquarius again ... but without any real purpose or reason to understand why.

STAN said..in the end.. we probably are stuck in Age of Aquarius but it seems like we deserve a change!
